

ISSUE 27 //
MAY 2021

FILMODE

Gender-Neutral Fashion

Fluidity as Freedom

Rising voice of the voiceless

Ezra Miller

Gender-bending star
of the future

Novita Angelika

NT$ 290

Pink is Masculine color (too)

The Future is Genderless

Our mainstream society has built a segregation towards female and male. This generated idea has succeeded to draw a thick line towards both genders, including the fashion industry. The line drawn resulted in the creation of stiff portrayal of menswear and womenswear.

Nowadays people are beginning to shift their way of thinking, and the way they feel about biologically identifying themselves. Masculine and feminine qualifications has crossed into a more neutral territory. What is created is freedom of style in dressing without fear of expressing one's own identity.

Manly men