Who To Follow

#FashionIM #MCUFIM

Helen is a sophomore from MCUIB. He is very into dancing that have led him to become the leader of DMC (dance club). While dancing,he likes to wear clothes that are big and loose. Other times,he usually dresses in hip hop style clothings to combine with industrial objects to show his own personality. He is a big fan of Supreme as you can see, most of his items are from it.

Trends You Don't Wanna Miss

People nowadays likes to wear different styles but street style will never be forgotten. Adding different objects from different style can be a way to show your own personality. Every item in fashion can have different meanings for everyone. The brand you choose can also represent what you want to show.

Dr. Gloria's vision of Industrial Street Style:

The street winds originated from the United Kingdom, it has personal characteristics and thoughts and become a style and has changed rapidly. Industrial wind did not appear in the fashion industry at the beginning. It takes elements from old factories or industrial spaces and then redesigns into living spaces, so it generally has the meaning of "retro". The fashionable industrial street style is popular in the trend of the brand, emphasizing the "industrial" sense. In the overall shape, the accessories are important and industrial.
